Among the Treasures

Deep in the heart of our cheese warehouse lie beautiful rounds of the world's most well-known cheeses. Among them lie other treasures that are worthy of the same glory. These are the cheeses I want to tell you about today. I know you have heard of them, I know you have even tasted them, but sometimes we simply forget how great they are. After all, so much is going on in each and every cheese counter, and it is quite difficult to be all inclusive.

Here they are. These are the cheeses that you may want to introduce to customers once again, not because they're artisanal, but because they're exquisite pieces of cheese with relentless history and tantalizing character profiles.

FRANCE

FR4035 Ardi Gasna Petit 6/1.7 lb

This is a small Basque cheese made with raw sheep milk. The flavor is bigger, nuttier than younger Basque cheeses. The texture is firm with a natural paprika-rubbed rind.

FRS405 Carre du Berry 6/9 oz

This silky fresh chevre is made by P. Jacquin in the region of Berry, France. Each thick, creamy square is coated in lush, fresh herbs and are complemented with the fresh citrus flavor of the goat cheese.

FRS75 Clarines 6/9.4 oz

This exquisite cheese, made by Jean Perrin is from the Franche-Comte. The semi-washed rind, soft ripening, buttery smooth, brie-like cheese is wrapped in a thin veneer wood. Its cylindrical shape allows breathing space where the bloom of the rind continues to grow. Its beauty is in both flavor and appearance.

08158 Comte St. Antoinnes 1/6 lb

The Jura caves at Fort St. Antoinnes are perhaps the best cheese ripening caves in all of France. It is here that this cheese is aged for 14 months. Made only with raw, summer cow's milk resulting in bold, rich flavor.

FRS55 Gratte Paille 8/6.3 oz

Robert Rouzaire produces this hand-molded, rich creme (70% butterfat) cheese. Aged on straw it has all of the characteristics of the raw milk original found only in France.

BELGIUM

BG1050 Nazareth Swiss 2/13 lb

It's one of my favorites and I will always suggest it above any other baby Swiss type. The shiny, deep mahogany rind enrobes a supple, straw-colored cheese with quarter-size eyes. Nazareth has a lovely supple texture with a very buttery, young nutty flavor. (And the price is right)

ENGLAND

EN1050 Hereford Hop 1/9 lb

This is a farmstead cow's milk cheese, made in Worcestershire by Nick Hodgetts of Malvern Cheesewrights. A real beauty, coated with dried hops, The flavorful cheddar cheese is known for its lemony undertones.

HOLLAND

HD273 Delft Blue 1/9 lb

Imagine! The subtle nutty flavor of Gouda combined with the deep veining of a luscious blue, rolled into one Holland cheese. The Delft is not typical. It has surprised many first-time tasters with its crumbly texture and deep, meaty flavor.

SPAIN

SP1400 Larra Roncal D.O. 2/6.5 lb

This is an absolutely lovely origin protected, raw sheep milk cheese from Navarra, Spain. It is both artisanal and farmhouse, made on the Larra family farm. Aged for over 100 days, it is firm and full-flavored with undertones of nuts and olives.

The cheeses above are simply a few of the hidden treasures in our warehouse. There are many more, and I will continue to write about others in future editions.

Exclusive Lines: They Are A' Changin'

Change is a good thing. And autumn is the very season of change. All around are signs of a metamorphosis: leaves slowly changing to a brittle russet and the sweet summer smell of mowed lawns replaced by that of burning wood wafting from chimneys.

In this spirit of evolution and reinvention, we are introducing a few new members to our family of European Imports exclusive brands. With the holidays very nearly upon us, and plenty of shoppers and diners to satisfy, now is a great time to try out some new things.

Our first new addition is Cucina Viva Grissini di Torino. These are long, thin, toasty, buttery breadsticks imported from Turin, Italy. Intended for food service use, each individually wrapped pouch contains approximately four breadsticks, which can be enjoyed alone, with butter or olive oil for dipping, or with prosciutto and cheese as a first course. What's more hospitable than providing a simple, tasty pre-dinner treat for your guests to enjoy with cocktails? Cucina Viva Grissini are an easy way to add a touch of authentic Italian charm to a simple bread basket.

Our next exciting new arrival is a variation on our wildly popular Life in Provence Mini Toasts. Introducing Life in Provence Whole Wheat Mini Toasts! Now that old favorite has an extra element that is sure to make it more attractive to the health-conscious consumer. They are just as cute and delicious as the original mini toast, but with a darker, more hearty appearance and flavor, and the health benefits of added fiber. They will also stand out on the shelf, thanks to a subtle, sophisticated label design. Try using these toasts for in-store samplings of cheeses, pates and sweet or savory spreads, and watch them fly off the shelves.

Last, but certainly not least, just the thing to serve at your holiday feast: Cocina Selecta Blue Cheese Stuffed Queen Olives. Just when you thought you'd seen everything that could possibly be crammed into a Spanish queen olive, these guys come along and rock your world. We are offering them in both a 1 gallon food service sized plastic jar (lightweight and no breakage) as well as cases of 12/10 oz. glass jars for retail. Not only are these zesty, creamy olives great on their own, in salads or tossed in a martini, the brine left behind when they are gone can be used to add a little fun (and a little funk) to anything from bloody marys to soups or marinades.

Wild & Unique Foods by Tim Doyle

Black Kassel Alpen Schinken

The Black Kassel Salami Knights have been working hard over the last year to bring you a ham so unique it takes 80 days to make. Inspired from the hams made in the Tirol region of Italy ... we bring you Black Kassel Alpen Schinken.

The Tirol region in Italy, nestled in the Alps has a unique climate that is dry and cool and allowed the region to produce in their caves a very special ham that could be called a "Smoked Prosciutto" or "Tirol Speck". Pillers Black Kassel is proud to be able to offer their version.

Each ham is carefully selected by their "Sausage Meister" for color, size and fat definition. The ham is hand trimmed and then individually cured with its own spice mixture, thus allowing for the differences in the meat, guaranteeing uniformity in the salt levels. The product is cured, smoked and then placed in their drying chamber for 5-6 weeks which is the time required to produce the delicate texture and aroma. Only a practiced patience can produce a ham of this quality and taste.

Black Kassel Alpen Schinken is delicious on a sandwich, cold cut platter or served with melon.

Conveniently available in

- 4 oz packages (18/cs)
- Deli cut (2/cs)

Bring some home and enjoy it today!!!

Glowing Embers

It's patience that yields the Nueske trademark taste, and European Imports Ltd. has picked up two more world-class smoked meat products. Nueske lets their meats smoke slowly, allowing the gentle masters of time and temperature to create the smoky, full-bodied flavor. They insist on slow-burning glowing embers, not flames, of sweet Applewood to smoke their non-water-added products.

We have added applewood smoked beef, which is cut from the inside round, and very lean. This unique product has a texture leaning towards that of dried beef with a little moisture. The next item is a flat, boneless smoked turkey breast. These turkey breasts have a more natural feel since they are not pressed or shaped before smoking. Both products are perfect for sandwiches, buffet carving stations, hors d'oeuvres or mid-night snacking.
